Strategic Target Allocations: Fixed-income subsectors seeking outperformance in a rising interest rate environment

Allocations are subject to change and should not be considered investment advice.

Investment Process:

- Fixed Income subsectors are tactically adjusted based on historical value
- Bottom-up and top-down fundamental analysis utilized to pinpoint intrinsic value and optimize industry exposure
- Technical analysis used to adjust closed-end fund exposure and attain attractive entry points
- A risk management process emphasizing position limits, fundamental sell-discipline, and value realization when price targets are achieved

Potential Investor Benefits:

The fund seeks to meet the needs of investors whose primary goal is a high level of current income, and those investors who are seeking capital preservation in a rising interest rate and inflationary environment

Potential benefits of this fund include:

- Competitive yield – Fund yield is competitive with most savings vehicles
- Inflation and rising treasury rate protection – Fund employs various strategies seeking to mitigate real capital loss in inflationary environments
- Liquidity – Seeks to Provide liquidity when needed

There is no guarantee that any investment strategy will achieve its objectives, goals, generate profits, or avoid losses. Liquidity does not ensure profit or prevent losses.

Yield to Maturity--The rate of return anticipated on a bond if it is held until maturity date.

Yield to Worst--The lowest potential yield that can be received on a bond without the issuer actually defaulting.

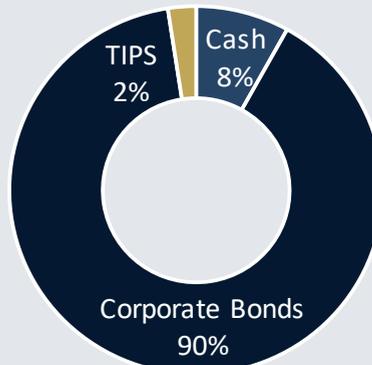

30 Day SEC Yield--SEC Yield is computed in accordance with SEC standards measuring the net investment income per share over a specified 30-day period expressed as a percentage of the maximum offering price of the Fund's shares at the end of the period.

Effective Duration--A bond's sensitivity to interest rates, incorporating the embedded option features, such as call provisions. Bonds with longer durations experience greater price volatility than bonds with shorter durations.

Barclays U.S. Bond Aggregate Index: The index measures the performance of the U.S. investment grade bond market. The index invests in a wide spectrum of public, investment-grade, taxable, fixed income securities in the United States – including government, corporate, and international dollar-denominated bonds, as well as mortgage-backed and asset-backed securities, all with maturities of more than 1 year.

Important Risks: Investments in mutual funds involve risk including possible loss of principal. There is no guarantee that any investment strategy will achieve its objectives, generate profits, or avoid losses. The Fund invests in closed end investment companies or funds. The shares of many closed end funds, after their initial public offering, frequently trade at a price per share that is less than the net asset value per share, the difference representing the "market discount" of such shares.

The Fund may be adversely affected by new (or revised) laws or regulations that may be imposed by government regulators or self-regulatory organizations that supervise the financial markets. CLO debt securities are limited recourse obligations of their issuers and may be subject to redemption. Holders of the CLO debt being redeemed will be repaid earlier than the stated maturity of the debt. The timing of redemptions may adversely affect the returns on CLO debt. The CLO manager may not find suitable assets in which to invest during the Reinvestment Period or to replace assets that the manager has determined are no longer suitable for investment.

The value of securities issued by the U.S. Government generally fluctuates in response to inflationary concerns and may differ in their interest rates, maturities, times of issuance and other characteristics. The risk that the Fund could lose money if the issuer or guarantor of a fixed income security is unwilling or unable to make timely payments to meet its contractual obligations. The risk that foreign currencies will decline in value relative to the U.S. dollar and adversely affect the value of the Fund's investments in foreign (non-U.S.) currencies. The derivative instruments in which the Fund may invest for hedging purposes may be more volatile than other instruments.

The Fund invests in fixed income securities or derivatives, the value of your investment in the Fund will fluctuate with changes in interest rates. These risks could affect the value of a particular investment by the Fund. Investment in or exposure to high yield (lower rated) debt instruments (also known as "junk bonds") may involve greater levels of interest rate, credit, liquidity and valuation risk than for higher rated instruments. When the Fund invests in other investment companies, including ETFs, it will bear additional expenses.

The Fund has a limited history of operation. In addition, the Adviser has not previously managed a mutual fund. The risk that investment strategies employed by the Fund's adviser in selecting investments for the Fund may not result in an increase in the value of your investment. The Adviser's use of computer trading modeling systems may perform differently than expected as a result of the factors used in the models.
